Mr. Dowie then called upon William Fruhling, corner Eighth and San Antonio Streets, to testify, who responded as follows (speaking very fervently, with a strong German idiom, evidently with deep feeling.) The first thing I want to say is what I seen, and the next thing what T heard, and the next idiot I feel. I got about three points. [ Hallelujah, a good arrangement, from Mr. Dowie.] The first thing is I see Brother Lathwesen. I know Brother Lathwesen since came in town here, and he stay, I guess about a week or two in my houst when he came here, which was about fourteen or fifteen years ago. And the next thing I been with him last August in the Pacific Grove, just about pretty near a month right together. Brother Lathwesen was so he could not walk very little, about half a block. I got my buggy and I thought I drive him around once in a while, but he could not stand even that. Then Brother Baker went down there (he live there), and I heard that Brother Dowie was down here, and the people get healed here. So Sister Lathwesen went down here, she thought so long as we staid there he would be safe, she was generally afraid to leave him alone. Then Mrs. Lathwesen sent word that he shall come right away down to the meeting, that he would...
